

LITIGATION SUPPORT

SUPPORTING CORPORATE COUNSEL

Successful corporate litigation or arbitration often depends on how overwhelming one side can present a compelling description while undermining that of their opposing counsel. Critical to this process is the legal team's ability to leverage reliable evidence to support a claim, whether in the form of forensic accounting and fund flow analysis, or in broader information gathering.

Fortaris Capital Advisors is recognized as a trusted partner to corporate counsel and their legal advisors. Fortaris supports parties to major, domestic and international disputes through seamless investigation and financial analysis, providing evidence of the highest quality and reliability. Our extensive training, knowledge, and experience allows us to act as strategic partners to clients and their legal advisors when success is the only option, during fluid fast paced environments.

Fortaris Capital Advisors litigation support services include:

- Witness Identification and Evidence Gathering. The supreme research and field capabilities of Fortaris' investigation professionals provide evidence of the highest standard for use in complex legal proceedings.
- Asset Identification and Protection. Legal advisors depend on Fortaris' asset tracing professionals to locate and safeguard tangible and non-tangible assets of counterparties in preparation of litigation.
- Forensic Accounting and Financial Analysis. Our financial investigations professionals are frequently called upon as expert witnesses of fact to support litigation involving fraud, money laundering and corruption.

The Fortaris team bring together subject matter experts in criminal and corporate investigations, forensic accounting, data mining, and financial analysis, to gather and analyze evidence and establish relationships between parties and timelines of events and transactions.
